ENTSOG publishes its first TAR NC monitoring report

(Brussels, 03 April, PR0156-18) Today ENTSOG published the TAR NC Implementation and Baseline for Effect Monitoring report for 2017, the first report of its kind since the TAR NC entered into force on 6 April 2017.

The TAR NC monitoring report was developed by ENTSOG to monitor the status of the implementation of the TAR NC by European TSOs as of 31 December 2017, and to set a baseline for future TAR NC effect monitoring reports.

The report confirms that the majority of TSOs have implemented the necessary provisions from the TAR NC for 2017 – most of the workload comprises implementation of the publication requirements, followed by the preparation activities for future public consultations. A number of key challenges associated with the implementation of the TAR NC have also been identified in the report.

In the effect monitoring sections of the report, five indicators were used: revenue recovery for TSOs, tariff changes, the profile of capacity bookings, publication in English, and the level of short-term multipliers. This being the baseline report, it will be possible to comparatively measure the future effects of the TAR NC.

The report is available on the ENTSOG website, here.
