

European Network of Transmission System Operators for Gas (ENTSOG) has presented the methodology for its TYNDP 2013-2022 and launches the call for information on projects to be covered in the report

The European Network of Transmission System Operators has presented the methodology for its Ten-Year Network Development Plan (TYNDP) 2013-2022 and launches the call for information on projects to be covered in that TYNDP.

On 20 June, ENTSOG organized the 5th TYNDP Workshop to present the methodology for the 2nd formal edition of its Ten-Year Network Development Plan.

Vittorio Musazzi, ENTSOG General Manager said: “While the TYNDP concept has evolved since the pilot edition, the assessment of the resilience of the gas infrastructure in Europe based on specific infrastructure, demand and supply scenarios remains the core part of the report. The next edition focuses on further improvement of these scenarios, in particular regarding demand and supply to ensure sufficient robustness of the analysis.”

Having presented the methodology, ENTSOG now proceeds to the data collection process. As two years ago, ENTSOG hereby launches a public call for data regarding gas infrastructure projects that should be covered in the TYNDP 2013-2022. All project promoters that consider their projects eligible for entry should submit all required information to ENTSOG by 14 September 2012. Data will be collected exclusively through an online questionnaire. Project promoters are required to approach ENTSOG to receive credentials to enter the data collection system. Project promoters that submitted their projects for the TYNDP 2011-2020 must confirm their entry for the next edition and submit up-to-date data otherwise their projects will not be covered any more. The scope of the data questionnaire can be checked at <http://www.entsog.eu/publications/tyndp.html>
